these notes present the impressions gathered by a team of indian and pakistani economists on contemporary issues in irrigation management in these two countries the authors suggest that the two countries can learn important lessons by comparing notes on several issues a what would work best in ensuring equitable access to irrigation physical rehabilitation being tried out in pakistan punjab with the help of the army under the military rule offers interesting possibilities in terms of scale and impact as does the andhra pradesh model of irrigation reform b the experience in both countries so far defies the uncritically accepted premise that under farmer management irrigation systems will be more equitable c why farmers in pakistan punjab have to use 16 20 horsepower hp diesel engines to pump groundwater from 25 40 feet while north indian farmers have been doing the same with 5 hp engines if it is because of compulsion of habit appropriate policies can save pakistan substantial diesel fuel per year d india needs to ask why diesel engines in lahore cost only 40 50 percent of the retail price they command in lucknow or ludhiana we suggest allowing free imports of chinese pumps will do away with the need for pump subsidies that keep diesel engines over priced in india e both pakistan and india need to pay serious attention to promoting simple pump modifications that can increase fuel efficiency of their pumps by 40 70 percent f india and pakistan need to compare notes on their rich experience of electricity pricing policies to achieve viability of electricity supply to farmers and to achieve important goals of groundwater management and policy taliban s return to power in august of 2021 caused everyone to ask why the two decades of institution building in afghanistan failed this book investigates the root causes of failed reforms in an important area of reform trade and credit institutions it explains why the efforts to reform and regulate the economic institutions in afghanistan failed and what we can learn from their failure it draws on more than eighty interviews with afghan merchants business leaders money dealers and government officials in five major provinces of afghanistan to identify the barriers to access to credit and to understand the performance of formal institutions banks and their informal counterparts this book finds that afghan merchants were often unable to benefit from the offerings of formal institutions for three reasons a highly volatile business climate uncertain contract enforcement and an unsupportive property rights system several informal institutions have emerged that alleviate some of the credit constraints on afghan merchants these informal institutions include risk sharing trade credit operations money dealers short term working capital loans gerawee and sar qufli although these informal institutions have helped afghan merchants survive they are unable to support economic growth this book argues that countries like afghanistan should solve their institutional dilemma by adopting an approach which the author calls grounded institutional reform using this approach a country would formalize existing informal institutions a development that would vastly increase their effectiveness while this book focuses on credit and trade in afghanistan the analysis of formalizing the informal can easily be extended to solve other types of economic problems in similarly situated countries this book should be of great interest to scholars policymakers and development workers in the field of law finance and development
