Identifying the Main Idea Each paragraph and the text as a whole should have a central idea Practice identifying this main idea it's the core message the author is trying to convey

Example In a paragraph discussing the benefits of exercise the main idea might be Regular physical activity improves both physical and mental wellbeing

Understanding Supporting Details These details expand on and support the main idea Learn to distinguish between major supporting details crucial for understanding and minor details less essential

Example Supporting details for the exercise paragraph might include specifics about cardiovascular health stress reduction and improved mood

Making Inferences

Dont just read the words understand the implied meaning Langan encourages you to make connections draw conclusions and interpret the authors tone and purpose

Example If an article repeatedly mentions the rising cost of living and subsequent decrease in consumer spending you can infer that the author is likely discussing a potential economic downturn

After reading a section or the entire text summarize the key points in your own words This helps solidify your understanding and identify any gaps in your comprehension
