excerpt from religions and religion a study of the science of religion pure and applied there seems to be a fitness in the surroundings amid which i begin to gather together the thoughts of many years upon a great theme i am in the first enjoyment of my holiday and the conditions themselves take me back vividly to my missionary brethren as i saw some of religion plays a central role in human experience billions of people around the world practice a faith and act in accordance with it religion shapes how they enter the world and how they leave it how they eat dress marry and raise their children it affects law economy and government it sanctifies injustice and combats it beginning with the first signs of religion among ancient humans and concluding with a look at modern citizens and contemporary trends leading scholar thomas tweed examines this powerful and enduring force in human society religion a very short introduction offers a concise non partisan overview of religion s long history and its complicated role in the world today excerpt from religions and religion a study of the science of religion pure and applied the centenary of the wesleyan missionary society suggests many different lines of thought to those who would gather the lessons of the past in the hope of securing a future worthy of that past the line i shall try to pursue is dictated to me by obvious conditions i had clung to the hope that the honour of celebrating our centenary in a fernley lecture would fall to a far sighted missionary statesman who gave all his powers of brain and heart to the evangelizing of india and when after many years devoted service ill health drove him home left his mark indelibly on the mission house as a man of vision but the same cause that has successively terminated mr w h findlay s direct service of the missionary society in india and at home has now operated to deprive us of a centenary lecture the quality of which the friends of foreign missions in other churches could anticipate almost as surely as we ourselves the dangerous privilege is reluctantly taken up by one who has studied the foreign field only from afar with the memorable exception of one brief visit to the lovely islands of the west where john baxter and thomas coke first planted our missionary banner less than four weeks experience even in a country where there is hardly any preaching to non christian people made an immense difference to my understanding of missionary problems about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
